How to subdue a cat and change the midnight front portico howler to a condition or meekness has been solved in Harrison, O. A careful housewife molded a panful of snow-white dough from XXX spring flour, charged with quick yeast, and with many a pat "set" the incipient biscuits near the fireplace to "rise." Very soon two of the paddies of dough were mysteriously missing, and not a trace of their whereabouts was found until the family cat, walking sideways and puffed out like a balloon, came in and lay down by the fire to rest. Evidently the cat had been taken suddenly and seriously ill, or was struggling in an insane delirium with some great grief. Not only her heart but her hide was filled to bursting, and the trouble was that she was getting fuller, and external appearances of some mighty internal trouble of the seismic kind were distinctly seen to travel her spine. Every individual hair stood on its head and her tail was carried pompadour with her ears. Her eyes threatened to pop out, and her legs refused to do her bidding. She was carefully placed on the family fire-shovel and as comfortably placed in a cool corner of the yard among the dog-fennel, hoping the cool embrace of mother earth would ease the raging fires within. "But all in vain," as the school-girl says. Later a dull muffled report (unaccompanied by any thud worth speaking of) was heard, and the spirit of as gallant a tom-cat as ever dodged a boot-jack had gone to that bourne, etc. She had eaten the green biscuits.

ANOTHER HORROR!

A Dreadful Railroad Wreck and its Consequences, at Havre De Grace, Md.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., June 22.—This village was the scene of a terrible disaster at six o'clock last evening. The Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore depot and track for several hundred yards presented a horrible picture.

The express train due here at 5:58 p. m. had left the station and run but a few yards when it was met by the north bound Congressional Express from Washington, running at a high rate of speed. A frightful wreck ensued. The fast express struck the baggage car of the south bound train just as it crossed the switch below the depot and crashed into the parlor car behind, demolishing two of them. No one on the north bound train was hurt, but the south bound train of six cars was full of passengers, nearly all of whom were more or less injured.

Alexander Gantrom, of Washington, was instantly killed.

Among the wounded are:

T. A. Bland, Washington, D. C., scalded.

A. B. Rice, New York, head and arm cut.

B. N. Baker, Baltimore, left leg broken.

J. M. McCormick, Brooklyn, N. Y., badly scalded.

A. L. Wood, Camden, N. J., seriously hurt about the head.

Many others were injured whose names could not be ascertained and who left as soon as possible. The engineer of the north bound train stuck to his post but the fireman jumped off before the collision and was slightly injured internally.

Many people in the overturned cars were gotten out with difficulty. Physicians were summoned who rendered all possible assistance. The more seriously wounded were taken to the hotels. The remainder of the passengers of both trains were taken back to Baltimore as soon as a train could be made up and the body of Gantrom turned over to the coroner.

A wrecking train from Wilmington arrived shortly after the accident and a large force of men set to work to clear the tracks. The accident was due to the fact that the congressional express was behind time and passed the signal tower at a high rate of speed. The signals were all right. Engineer Sargent says the air brake refused to work. He reversed his engine, but too late to prevent the collission.

JAY GOULD.

His Severe Illness is Concealed by His Friends.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The Times says: "Why should Jay Gould's professed friends try so hard to conceal the truth? He is a very sick man."

The Queen's Jubilee.

LONDON, June 22.—The Telegraph says: "The jubillee has come and gone in a blaze of pleasure, success and happy national emotion. The good Queen Victoria was the centre and climax of the spectacle, and was greeted with such cheers of love, reverence and benediction as no crowned head ever before received."

The queen rose early this morning, took a drive in the garden of Buckingham palace and subsequently her majesty received guests and then she visited the Duchess of Cambridge. In the afternoon she received the homage of foreigners and others, and their presents sent for the commemoration of the jubilee.

Train Robbery in Michigan.

HURON, Mich., June 22.—This morning five men boarded the 11:15 Grand Trunk train at St. Gratiot, going east, and "held up" the passengers. Several of them lost what money they had and one man lost $160. Three men have been arrested and are now jailed here and more arrests will probably follow.

Shot and Instantly Killed.

NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—Dr. M. A. Verando, aged fifty, a prominent dentist and justice of the peace of Tangipanoa parish, was on Monday, shot and instantly killed by L. R. Draughn, aged fifty-eight, who is also a well known citizen. The men had been on bad terms for two years.

A Murderer Arrested and Confesses His Crime.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 22.—Yesterday B. F. Truelove, a prominent planter near Clarksville, was assassinated while working in the field, by John Evans, a white man, who was making a crop on his place. Evans was arrested and confessed he killed Truelove.

The Weather.

Burglary at Greencastle.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., June 22—A bold robbery was perpetrated in the tailor establishment of Hays & Cannon. The burglars are supposed to have entered through the coal hole in the sidewalk from which point they had little trouble in reaching the vault. They got from $800 to $1,000, the larger part belonging to the K. of. L., who deposited there. The whole thing is shrouded in mystery.

To Warsaw To-Morrow.

Another Engagement.

UTICA, June 22.—President Cleveland and wife have written that they will participate in the centenial exercises of Clinton and the seventy-fifth anniversary of Hamilton college, Wednesday, July 13th.

FOR LARCENY.

George Merz, a Young Man, is Charged With Stealing $30.

George Merz, a young man, possibly twenty-five years of age and son of Peter Merz, was arraigned before the mayor to answer the charge of stealing $30 and a revolver from Fred Winter, who keeps a saloon at the corner of Lafayette and Montgomery street. Merz, it is alleged, committed the theft Sunday afternoon, but he denies the impeachment and will have a further trial to-morrow morning. Mayor Muhler sent him to jail in default of $500 bail.

Kentucky Desperadoes.

LEXINGTON, June 22.—Information has been received by transport of another battle in Rowan county which occurred this morning at 9 o'clock. Craig Tolliver was killed. It is said a large party of men, ostensibly led by Dr. Logan, had organized a band of regulators for the purpose of ridding the county of desperadoes. This morning a little after 9 o'clock the regulators, being concealed in close proximity, to the Morehead, opened fire on Tolliver and some of his gang who were on the streets. Tolliver was killed early in the engagement and the fight assumed a bushwhacking character, the men hiding behind houses and trees and shooting any one that could be seen.

The reports differ as to the number killed, one placing the number at five, including Tolliver, another that Craig, Tolliver and two of his brothers and thirteen men have been killed.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Wheat, unsettled. Opened ¼@½c higher, little weaker and declined 2¼c on June and ¼@½. On others less doing. No. 2 red June, 85⅛@89½c. Corn, dull and declining, 46½@47½. Oats, dull and heavy at 40@41.

TOLEDO, June 22.—Wheat, quiet, steady and unchanged. Corn, steady, at 40½c. Oats quiet, Aug. 36c. Clover-seed, steady at $4 25.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The talk on the board was about the Fidelity bank failure, with but little effect, however, on the wheat market, as it was believed that the Cincinnati end of the deal had played its part and was now out of the way. July wheat open ½c higher than it closed yesterday, at 70½c, sold to 70½c and is now quoted at 70c.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Wheat about steady; June, 69c. Corn, steady, at 35⅝. Oats, steady, at 25c. Rye, 52c. Barley, nothing doing. Timothy, prime, $2 15. Flax seed, $1 21. Whiskey $1 10. Pork, steady, $2 20. Lard, firm, $6 27½.

Frank Johnson, the Nebraska burglar, was on trial before a jury in the circuit court to-day. The jury retired at 3 o'clock and acquitted the colored man. The trial of Dick Nahrwald, for attempted murder, will be taken up next.

Delicate persons, and all whose systems have become debilitated, should bear in mind that Simmons Liver Regulator is not a drastic, purging medicine, does not weaken or deplete the system as other purgatives do, but acts gently. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to leave to intemperance; will promote digestion dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system.

Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, of Ga., says: "Simmons Liver Regulator is mild and suits me better than more active remedies."

Rev. Dr. D. W. Moffatt will spend the summer in the Lake Superior region. During his absence the pulpit of his church will be filled by Rev. Dr. W. G. Craig, a professor in the Chicago seminary. Sunday, July 3d, Mr. Chatterjee, a converted Brahman from India, will occupy the pulpit.

Provident Savings Life.

FORT WAYNE, IND., June 20, 1886.

Received of Joseph Lumbard, special agent of the Provident Savings Life Assurance society, of New York, the sum of five thousand dollars, ($5,000) being payment in full of policy No. 21,338, held in the above company, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the prompt receipt of same, soon after the proofs of death were forwarded. The above policy was only taken out by my father, Thomas Lucas, six weeks prior to his death; the premium paid was only one hundred and fifty-seven dollars, (157,-00) whilst in other good companies the premium would have been three hundred and eighty-eight dollars, ($388,00). For prompt payment, safe and cheap life insurance, Mr. Lumbard has certainly secured the best company.

FIDELITY'S FAILURE!

The Bank's Failure is Due to the Money Lost in the Chicago Wheat Panic.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Comptroller Trenholm has telegraphed general instructions to Examiner Powell, who is in charge of the Fdelity National bank, of Cincinnati. He is directed to receive all payments tendered him and push all collections of overdrafts and maturing paper, but to pay out nothing that was in the bank at the time of the failure. Paper maturing and notes paid must be protested and no checks or offsets are to be allowed. The fact is that nothing will be done that can await the appointment of a receiver. Remittances to the bank by mail and collections made by the examiner for parties not indebted to the bank and unmatured paper held for collection and not credited to owners may be returned or disposed of as the owners may direct.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 22.—It is said that the Bank Examiner Powell on Monday afternoon demanded a statement from the bank and received one shewing a balance on hand of $1,160,000 in cash. When calling for a view of this money, he was amazed to be shown an old pencil memorandum, reading "Wilshire, Echart & Co., $900,000; J. W. Wilshire, $48,000," and so on through a long list. There was no collateral and no security, whatever. Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Hopkins were unable to make any explanation and Mr. Harper could offer none. Even after this it is said the offer to permit this bank to continue was made, if these three men were expelled and new capital brought in, but when inquiry was made as to how much would be required the answer was. "A million dollars at least." That staggered the directors and although they still hoped to form a reorganization it is most propable that the fear of a further deficit deterred them. The fact is that Harper concealed from the directors his connection with the wheat deal. He is said to have admitted yesterday, he did not go into the wheat deal himself, but he honored an over draft for Wilshire for $48,000 and then put in the rest to save that. He charges the whole break to the action of the Chicago board of trade making all wheat regular. Mr. Eugene Powell, the bank examiner, is credited with saying that the condition of the bank is awful. He said it was singular how Harper had deceived every body about the matter. In this connection it may be recalled that when the wheat panic occurred in Chicago, and rumors were out of the run on the Fidelity bank, Mr. Harper stated repeatedly to parties asking for information, that he did not know who was in the wheat deal and went so far as to say he did not believe that it was managed at Cincinnati, but that it was conducted from California and Cleveland. More attachments upon Harper's property have been made and everything he has is now tied up.

As the examination of the Fidelity National bank proceeds the enormous deficit increases. It is now the common talk on the streets that the liabilities of the bank will be the stupendous sum of $6,000,000, while the assets will dwindle in proportion. It seems a foregone conclusion that the depositors will get next to nothing. This is the general talk, but of course it is unofficial and cannot be verified until the bank examiner completes his work and makes his report. It is stated to-day that a memorandum, which is a substitute for the collateral, shows that Wilshire used $1,100,000 of the bank's money and that the collaterals for other loans were hypothicated in New York and elsewhere. It is believed that Wilshire acted as the agent of Harper in conducting a wheat deal and was not the principal.

Later.—The publication was made here that Messrs. Swift and Lyman, the attorneys for the Exchange National bank of Chicago, were here to push a claim of $75,000 against the Fidelity bank. The truth is the exact amount is $198,367.50. Last Saturday Mr. Swift presented a certificate of deposit and demanded the money. He was told that the American Exchange did not have this sum to its credit. He then demanded the balance, whatever it might be, and was told that the payment had been stopped. In view of the apparent negligence of President Briggs Swift and the other directors, there is strong talk of causing their arrest, although it would be hard to find even a suffering creditor in Cincinnati to demand it. One who knows, but declines to give his name, says that ten days ago he, with President Swift, went over the called loan account and found it all right. He says he is certain that Harper had done all this crooked work within the past ten days or two weeks and could not well be known. He does not think there is any reflection on President Swift. While there is no effect upon the banks from this failure there is marked restriction of business. Business men stand appalled as the glaring features of this great fraud are contemplated.

MONNING-DEWALD.

A Notable Wedding at the Cathedral This Morning.

The marriage of Mr. Tony DeWald to Miss Katie, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Henry Monning, was solemnized at the Cathedral this morning by Rev. Father Oechtering. The relatives and friends of the young people comfortably filled the church to witness the ceremony and by their presence complimented the high contracting parties, who are so well and favorably known in society. The bride was attended by Miss Mamie DeWald, and the groom by Mr. Henry Monning. The ladies were charming and richly attired, while the gentlemen were in keeping with the honors. It was a very notable wedding owing to the prominence of the families and although entirely private was a brilliant event. From the church, where Father Oechtering pronounced the impressive marriage rite, Mr. and Mrs. DeWald repaired to the home of the bride on East Wayne street. There an elegant wedding feast was spread to them and their immediate relatives, and this afternoon, amid a shower of rice and blessings, Mr. and Mrs. DeWald left for the east on a wedding tour.

Interest in Study.

In all pedagogy the great thing is to strike the iron while hot, and to seize the wave of the pupil's interest in each successive subject before its ebb has come, so that knowledge may be got and a habit of skill acquired—a headway of interest, in short, secured, on which afterward the individual may float. There is a happy moment for fixing skill in drawing, for making boys collectors in natural history, and presently dissectors and botanists; then for initiating them into the harmonies of mechanics and the wonders of physical and chemical law. Later, introspective psychology and the metaphysical and religious mysteries take their turn; and last of all, the drama of human affairs and worldly wisdom in the widest sense of the term. In each of us a saturation-point is soon reached in all these things; the impetus of our purely intellectual zeal expires, and unless the topic be one associated with some urgent personal need that keeps our wits constantly whetted about it, we settle into an equilibrium, and live on what we learned when our interest was fresh and instinctive, without adding to the store. Outside of their own business the ideas gained by men before they are twenty-five are practically the only ideas they shall have in their lives. They cannot get anything new. Disinterested curiosity is past, the mental grooves and channels set, the power of assimilation gone. If by chance we ever do learn anything about some entirely new topic we are afflicted with the strange sense of insecurity, and we fear to advance a resolute opinion. But, with things learned in the plastic days of instructive curiosity, we never lose entirely our sense of being at home. There remains a kinship, a sentiment of intimate acquaintance, which, even when we know we have failed to keep abreast of the subject, flatters us with a sense of power over it, and makes us feel not altogether out of the pale.

Whatever individual exceptions might be cited to this are of the sort that "prove the rule."

To detect the moment of the instinctive readiness for the subject is, then, the first duty of every educator. As for the pupils, it would probably lead to a more earnest temper on the part of college students if they had less belief in their unlimited future intellectual potentialities, and could be brought to realize that whatever physics and political economy and philosophy they are now acquiring are, for better or worse, the physics and political economy and philosophy that will have to serve them to the end.—Prof. William James, in Scribner's Magazine.

Where Gold Is Cheap.

The precious metal being here so plentiful, because of the remarkable richness of the surrounding sierras, ornaments of pure gold and silver are common among the poorest people, from great hoops in their ears to cigarette-cases in their pockets. At every street corner are little stands, where genuine treasures in the way of antique jewelry or exquisite specimens of filigree work may be bought for a song. There are bracelets, necklaces, combs, ear-rings, crucifixes, in short, every imaginable device—some set with the beautiful opals of Queretara, or pearls from the California Gulf, or topazes, amthysts, garnets, or "cats'-eyes" from other portions of Mexico.—Letter from Guadalajara, Mexico.

A STEAM yacht is an expensive luxury. Jay Gould seldom cruises on the beautiful Atalanta and more seldom has guests abroad, yet she costs him $6,000 a month. W. K. Vanderbilt has made one cruise in his new Alva—to the Bermudas—and has planned others and he calculates that it will cost at least $10,000 a month to maintain his steam-pleasure craft. William Astor keeps his steam yacht the Nourmahal tied up most of the time and consequently he gets off more cheaply—$2,000 to $3,000 a month. The most extensive and most famous for its good cheer of all New York steam yachts is James Gordon Bennett's Namouna. For twelve months in the year he keeps her in commission and hardly a week passes when her cabin is not the scene of some lavish entertainment. Entertainments, more or less lavish, cost money, but how much Mr. Bennett spends in that way will remain a mystery. It is only known that the sum total of actual expenses on the Namouna is $48,000 a year.

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 22.—The people of Laurens county have been working themselves into a panic the past two weeks over an alleged threatened insurrection of negroes in that county. The most blood curdling rumors are circulated to the effect that the negroes intended to kill the white men, reduce the boys to slavery and marry the white girls. The negroes have been holding meetings at midnight in their country churches with armed sentinels at the door and a cordon of pickets guarding all the roads leading to the places of their conclaves.

THE republican press is now at work on the heavy task of making Adjutant General Dram a democrat.

THE business men should take hold of the lake project. It interests them more than any other class of people.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S jubilee is a very notable event indeed. THE SENTINEL outlines the honors to her in its telegraph columns.

IT IS useless to now deprecate the late date of the gravel road election. The thing to do is to organize for a successful and intelligent presentation of the question to the people.

JOSEPH HOWARD, an ex-convict, is writing a series of letters to the Chicago Inter-Ocean, denunciatory of the Northern Indiana prison management. The institution is not at all conducted to the liking of thieves, blackguards and murderers, and of course, this is very sad to contemplate.

THE export of American breadstuffs last month showed a falling off in comparison with the same month of last year, the values being respectively $13,181,877 and $13,548,543; but the eleven months ending with May of this year show $145,400,354 as against $109,107,386 compared with the same eleven months of last year.

A FEW cities are moving in the direction of compelling corporations to pay for street franchises and it may serve as a pointer to Fort Wayne. At Kansas City last week, the Metropolitan Cable Co. were required to do a certain amount of street paying; to maintain twelve electric lights along its route, and to give transfer checks to passengers. The Star estimates that these will cost the company about $70,000 during the life of its franchise—but the chief point is the recognition of the principle that if corporations want public franchises they must come down to business and pay for them.

BESIDE the cheap ravings of a few professional republican soldier-politicians, place this calm-tempered, Christian letter of the governor of Georgia, written prior to the president's final decision: "Your telegram asking my views on the proposition to return southern rebel flags received. When the proposition first reached me I regarded it as additional evidence of restored concord and fraternal sentiment. As such my heart responded most warmly to the movement, but as a portion of the northern press and people seek to make it the occasion for renewed estrangement and bitterness, I would prefer to leave the flags where they are. I speak as an individual, an ex-solder, not as governor, and without consultation, but I believe this will be found to be the sense and sentiment of the southern people. We are weary of strife and hate. We want peace and good will and prefer these to a return of even so cherished relics if their return is to be made at such a cost."

MR. JOHN MOHR can look over his career in the city council with a good deal of pride. It was he who first inaugurated the city hall project now under successful contemplation, and he also devised a measure converting the market space into a park, virtually introducing the beauty as well as necessity of parks to public notice. His greatest achievement, under the severest and most trying circumstances, was the passage of the cow ordinance, which has accomplished more in the way of improving and beautifying the city than any other single measure ever enacted by the council. The personal abuse and even public censure, heaped on Mr. Mohr at the time, can now be recalled. It was of a nature that few men would brave, but the gentleman has the honor to see the work of his head and heart bear golden fruit. It pays to be courageous on the side of right and this might serve as a moral to others who can profitably follow in his footsteps.

Excitement Over a Big Deal in Natural Gas.

WABASH, June 22.—Reports reached here that a gigantic natural gas pipe line project was on foot, and that the great Jumbo gas well at Fairmount, Grant county, had been sold to a syndicate of Buffalo capitalists who would sink other wells and pipe the fluid to Chicago to supply that city. Your reporter visited Fairmount this afternoon for the purpose of running down the story. A call was made upon Scott's bank. Mr. Scott admitted that he knew all the facts in the gas deal, but refused to reveal all he knew. He stated, however, that the Jumbo well was sold on Saturday to a Buffalo syndicate, who would pipe the gas, but he could not say exactly where the pipe line would go.

THE COURT OF APPEALS OF TEXAS has just rendered a decision which has thrown the gambling fraternity into a flutter, says an Austin (Tex.) correspondent. The case was William Porter vs. The State, from Collier County; charge, theft. Porter, while engaged in a game of cards, borrowed money from a bystander to use in the game, on promise to pay it back after the game was over. He failed to do so, and the man loaning the money had him indicted for theft. He was found guilty in the lower court, and appealed his case, which has been affirmed. Judge White, who rendered the opinion, said, among other things, that if the taking, though originally lawful, was obtained by a false pretense or with the intent of depriving the owner of the value thereof and appropriating the property to the use, etc., of the person taking, the offense is complete. In this the material question is, Do the facts in the record constitute theft? It is in proof that the money alleged to have been stolen was loaned by the prosecutor to the appellant upon the promise to return it when he had finished the game of cards he was playing. The court instructed the jury that if they believed from the evidence that the appellant and those indicted with him entered into a conspiracy to obtain the money, deprive the owner of its value, and appropriate to their possession, and that the owner of the money did not part with the title to it, but gave it to the indicted parties on their promise to return it after the game, and they did not intend to comply with their promise, that the jury would find the defendant, William Porter, guilty of theft. We are of the opinion that the court stated the case correctly in conformity with the statute. This is a novel case, but in our opinion a case of theft is made out, and the judgment is affirmed.

Rheumatism

We doubt if there is, or can be, a specific remedy for rheumatism; but thousands who have suffered its pains have been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla. If you have failed to find relief, try this great remedy.

"I was afflicted with rheumatism twenty years. Previous to 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse, and at one time was almost helpless. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley Village, Mass.

"I had rheumatism three years, and got no relief till I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has done great things for me. I recommend it to others." LEWIS BURBANK, Biddeford, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. F. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

VITIATED BLOOD.

Scrofulous, Inherited and Contagious Humors Cured by Cuticura.

THROUGH the medium of one of your books received through Mr. Frank T. Wray, Druggist, Apollo, Pa., I became acquainted with your Cuticura Remedies, and take this opportunity to testify to you that their use has permanently cured me of one of the worst cases of blood poisoning, in connection with erysipelas, that I have ever seen, and this after having been pronounced incurable by some of the best physicians in our county. I take great pleasure in forwarding to you this testimonial, unsolicited as it is by you, in order that others suffering from similar maladies may be encouraged to give your Cuticura Remedies a trial.
P. S. WHITLINGER, Leechburg, Pa.

SCROFULOUS ULCERS.

James E. Richardson, Custom House, New Orleans, on oath says: "In 1870 Scrofulous Ulcers broke out on my body until I was a mass of corruption. Everything known to the medical faculty was tried in vain. I became a mere wreck. At times could not lift my hands to my head, could not turn in bed; was in constant pain, and looked upon life as a curse. No relief or cure in ten years. In 1880 I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, used them, and was perfectly cured."
Sworn to before U. S Com. J. D. Crawford.

ONE OF THE WORST CASES.

We have been selling your Cuticura Remedies for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw cured by the use of five bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, Cuticura, and Cuticura Soap. The Soap takes the "cake" here as a medicinal soap.
TAYLOR & TAYLOR, Druggist, Frankfort, Kan.

SCROFULOUS INHERITED,

And contagious humors, with loss of hair, and eruptions of the skin, are positively cured by Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally, and Cuticura Resolvent internally, when all other medicines fail. Send for pamphlet.

Choking Catarrh

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depressing influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the nasal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys, all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease, and cries out for relief and cure.

The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of Sanford's Radical Cure, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow-sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references.

Each packet contains one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent and an improved inhaler, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

AMONG THE SHOPS.

AT THE BASS FOUNDRY AND MACHINE WORKS.

The proverbial mule is employed in the moulding department of the Bass works and does all the hauling of iron in and out of that department. It is a sort of quiet animal, however, and never kicks unless it raises its hind foot. The boys hold it in great reverence and when a stranger enters the shops they yell out: "Hello, there! Look out for that mule!"

Two new and large derricks are just being finished in the company's yards.

Harry Hayes, of the machine shops, went to Chicago yesterday to put a new engine in a building on State street, of that city.

John McKean, one of the most popular machinists of the shops, is celebrating his twenty-seventh birthday to-day, and many of the boys smoked at his expense this morning. They wish him long life and happiness.

The shops are shipping several car loads of car wheels to-day.

The boys say that the reason why Foreman Matsch voted against beer at the Fourth of July picnic was that fermented hops was not strong enough for him.

AT THE PITTSBURG SHOPS.

The yards in the shops are to be ornamented by the making of a mammoth flower bed in or near its center, and the boys say that they will have the most beautiful flower garden in the country, containing as it will every species that can be grown in this climate. When it is finished our reporter will be asked to view the garden and he now ventures to name it in advance, "The Garden of Eden," knowing that it will not suit the boys, but rival in appearance and beauty that historical spot, in which our first parents were tempted and fell. Go ahead with your garden boys, and when it is finished hold a big jubilee.

The boiler department is now receiving its coat of whitewash. Every department of the shops, not already whitewashed, will be similarly treated, and the whole establishment will not only look neater and better, but will be so thoroughly renovated and purified that it will make it a healthy place.

Ed. Challenger has returned from his visit to Toledo and resumed his duties in the shops.

There is an accumulation of freight at the Pittsburg depot and a large force of workmen are engaged in disposing of it.

W. H. Polhamus, the genial clerk at the Pennsylvania company's shops, says that news is very dull around his department.

Astrological Absurdities.

However much we may condemn and ridicule the conclusions drawn by astrologers from the "voices of the stars," their method of arriving at these conclusions was founded on strict rule. Their system had every pretension to mathematical and scientific accuracy. Their mistake arose in the idea that the position of any particular planet at any particular time could have the least influence on human fortunes and destinies. This fallacy is scarcely worth disproving in the nineteenth century, but one fact will show it at once. The position of the earth in its rotation, changes with regard to the signs of the zodiac every four minutes. It is evident then, that all the children born within the same four minutes must have precisely the same horoscope. Rich and poor, clever or dull, would have, according to astrology, exactly the same career in life mapped out for them—would undergo exactly the same vicissitudes, attain to exactly the same moment. As in England alone there are many children born in the course of every four minutes, the absurdity is evident. As to questions regarding particular events, the fact can be proved in a different way. The moon, for instance, is a powerful factor in astrological problems. Her position is, however, changed with regard to our meridian every four minutes, and, in the course of a few hours, very considerably so. It might, then, make a very great difference in the "figure" whether the querent went to the astrologer in the morning or the evening. In the one case he might have the moon in "joy," in "dignities," and in every other astrological excellence, while in the other she would be in the most complete opposition. — London Society.

CORA LEE'S TRIAL.

Testimony of the Defense—Defendant Tells Where She Was on the Night of the Murder.

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—Fourteen witnesses were examined for the defense in the Cora Lee trial at Springfield. Mattie Dyer, a damaging state witness, admitted that she had said she very much desired to see Cora Lee hung. Etta Molloy and Emma Lee testified that Cora slept with them the night of the murder, retiring about 9 o'clock, and that she did not leave home during the night.

Several witnesses testified to-day in support of the defense's theory that Graham and Sarah got off the train at Dorchester, while Cora Lee was sleeping by her sisters.

Cora Lee was called. She walked calmly and coolly to the stand and testified fifteen minutes without any emotion whatever. She said: "On the night of the murder I was at the Molloy farm, sleeping with Etta Molloy and Emma Lee. Late in the night I was awakened by some one tapping at the window. I asked: 'Who's there?' The reply was 'me.' I did not recognize the voice, and the girls got up and went with [illegible] the door, because I was afraid it [illegible] ham," She denied all the [illegible] against her morality in deta[illegible] she knew that Sarah Grah[illegible] Springfield was when [illegible] found. Yesterday a few [illegible] fied in rebuttal on both [illegible] the arguments begun.

A[illegible] for [illegible] shed [illegible] n bu[illegible] day a [illegible] all fro[illegible] ale [illegible] in whom [illegible] ous American [illegible] of Paris, [illegible] phia Telegra[illegible] to propose to [illegible] transaction. [illegible] a list of sundry [illegible] ied gentlemen who wished to marry rich American girls, and she displayed such a list inscribed with some of the proudest names of the French aristocracy. If my countryman would inform her of the arrival in Paris of any healthy American ladies, and of the presumed amount of their fortunes, she would, on the accomplishment of a marriage between any one of these and one of her clients, at once pay over to him half of her stipulated percentage on the dowry, which in her case was to amount to 10 per cent. It is needless to say that the woman's offer was refused. But the very fact of its being made showed how widespread is the system of the matrimonial agency in Paris and how extensive and elaborate must be its arrangements for obtaining information.

There is an Austrian gentleman moving in the best society of Paris whom I strongly suspect of being one of the secret and accredited agents of one of these establishments. He tried hard, but in vain, some years ago, to bring about a match between the daughter and only child of a wealthy American gentleman, then visiting this city, and a French duke of ancient family. The duke turned out finally to be an impostor, and was forced to take flight from Paris. Employes of the agencies are also to be found at the principal hotels here. They are usually women, generally bear high-sounding titles, and are pleasant of manner and affable of bearing. Their business is to make acquaintance with rich Americans who have daughters, so that the daughters aforesaid may be presented to impecunious adventurers on the lookout to repair their fortunes by marriage. The matter is very adroitly managed, an opera or a theater party, or a little dance being gotten up by the amiable French lady to amuse her sweet, new, young friend, the luckless damsel whose dollars, real or rumored, have caused her to be selected as a fitting victim. At the dance or at the theater the introduction takes place and the fascinations of the gentleman are supposed to do the rest. Very often, indeed, the promoter of the whole series of manuevers is not connected with any agency whatever, but is acting on her own account.

Distress after eating, heartburn, sick headache, and indigestion are cured by Hood's Sersaparilla. It also creates a good appetite.

At the recent great Sunday school convention held in Chicago a statistical report was presented showing the Sunday school membership of each state, territory, providence and country in the world. From this it appears that "Indiana, fifth in population in 1880, is sixth in Sunday school membership, second in proportion of that membership to the population."

The supreme court of Indiana recently decided that there are only three contingencies in which the sale of lands for delinquent taxes is absolutely void, the first being where the lands shall not have been liable for taxation; the second where the taxes have been paid before the sale, and the third where the description of the tax duplicate is so imperfect as to fail to identify the land.

The Salvation Army appeared upon the streets last evening with a new corps of workers, consisting of three ladies and one man. They gave open air exercises on Court street that drew around them a large crowd of interested spectators and then marched to their barracks, on Holman street, where their regular evening services were held. The leading lady of their band is a fine talker and the singing of all of them is good. They will make a renewed effort to advance their cause in this city, but their noisy street parades seem to have been discontinued and they content themselves with the harmless tamborine, which the ladies handle with dexterity.

Col. Gart Shober now cuts the atmosphere with the air of one on whose banner victory has permanently perched itself. The colonel has been paying his respects to a questionable house on Monroe street through "Mother Mum" and yesterday the occupants fled the ranch. Flushed even with this victory, sailing is evidently not smooth for him. He sees dangers of a collision with the obstructions in front of the Pixley-Long block and also perceives his liability to drop through the stone pavements now being laid on the west side of Calhoun street. The life of a morning newspaper man is troublous, but Shober is lucky if Contractor Geake does not drop a flag stone or two on him.

Nothing has occurred in freight circles of late which has created more anxiety than the announcement that the Wabash Western was going into Chicago, and proposed to cut rates on east bound freights. The feeling is that this road has no more right to go into that shipping point to cut rates than the Louisville and Nashville has, and the only reason they assign for doing so is that once upon a time they did have a route there, with which they fed the Detroit and Eel River, a piece of road which the Wabash Western still claims to control. Last night it was telegraphed here that Judge Gresham would, this morning, be asked to interfere in the matter, this piece of road still being in the hands of the court. The mere announcement that the Wabash Western proposed to cut rates out of Chicago put a stop, for the time being, to all shipments of grain, the shippers seeming to be as much interested in the outcome of the rumor as the general freight agents.

The American people are quick to appreciate a good article, which accounts for their consuming several millions of cakes of Ivory Soap the past year. Its sterling merits and moderate cost establish it permanently in every household where once tried.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Beginning Friday, June 24th, weekly meetings will be held Friday mornings at 9 o'clock at the First church. How to subdue a cat and change the midnight front portico howler to a condition or meekness has been solved in Harrison, O. A careful housewife molded a panful of snow-white dough from XXX spring flour, charged with quick yeast, and with many a pat "set" the incipient biscuits near the fireplace to "rise." Very soon two of the paddies of dough were mysteriously missing, and not a trace of their whereabouts was found until the family cat, walking sideways and puffed out like a balloon, came in and lay down by the fire to rest. Evidently the cat had been taken suddenly and seriously ill, or was struggling in an insane delirium with some great grief. Not only her heart but her hide was filled to bursting, and the trouble was that she was getting fuller, and external appearances of some mighty internal trouble of the seismic kind were distinctly seen to travel her spine. Every individual hair stood on its head and her tail was carried pompadour with her ears. Her eyes threatened to pop out, and her legs refused to do her bidding. She was carefully placed on the family fire-shovel and as comfortably placed in a cool corner of the yard among the dog-fennel, hoping the cool embrace of mother earth would ease the raging fires within. "But all in vain," as the school-girl says. Later a dull muffled report unaccompanied by any third worth speaking of was heard, and the spirit of as gallant a boiler-cat as ever dodged a boot-jack had gone to that bourne, etc. She had to be thrown away.

ANOTHER HORROR !

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., June 22.—This village was the scene of a terrible disaster at six o'clock last evening. The Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore depot and track for several hundred yards presented a horrible picture.

The express train due here at 5:38 p. m. had left the station and run but a few yards when it was met by the north bound Congressional Express from Washington, running at a high rate of speed. A frightful wreck ensued. The fast express struck the baggage car of the south bound train just as it crossed the switch below the depot and crashed into the parlor car behind, demolishing two of them. No one on the north bound train was hurt, but the south bound train of six cars was full of passengers, nearly all of whom were more or less injured.

Alexander Gantron, of Washington, was instantly killed.

Among the wounded are:

T. A. Bland, Washington, D. C., scalded.

A. B. Rice, New York, head and arm cut.

B. N. Baker, Baltimore, left leg broken.

Rev. J. P. Hinkha, Minneapolis, Minn., shoulder blade broken and arm fractured.

J. M. McCormick, Brooklyn, N. Y., badly scalded.

A. L. Wood, Camden, N. J., seriously hurt about the head.

Rev. Hobart Smith, Baltimore, leg and hand badly cut.

Many others were injured whose names could not be ascertained and who left as soon as possible. The engineer of the north bound train stuck to his post but the fireman jumped off before the collision and was slightly injured internally.

Many people in the overturned cars were gotten out with difficulty. Physicians were summoned who rendered all possible assistance. The more seriously wounded were taken to the hotels. The remainder of the passengers of both trains were taken back to Baltimore as soon as a train could be made up and the body of Gantron turned over to the coroner.

A wrecking train from Wilmington arrived shortly after the accident and a large force of men set to work to clear the tracks. The accident was due to the fact that the congressional express was behind time and passed the signal tower at a high rate of speed. The signals were all right. Engineer Sargent says the air brake refused to work. He reversed his engine, but too late to prevent the collision.

JAY GOULD.

NEW YORK, June 22.—The Times says: "Why should Jay Gould's professed friends try so hard to conceal the truth? He is a very sick man."

The Queen's Jubilee.

LONDON, June 22.—The Telegraph says: "The jubilee has come and gone in a blaze of pleasure, success and happy national emotion. The good Queen Victoria was the centre and climax of the spectacle, and was greeted with such cheers of love, reverence and benediction as no crowned head ever before received."

The queen rose early this morning, took a drive in the garden of Buckingham palace and subsequently her majesty received guests and then she visited the Duchess of Cambridge. In the afternoon she received the homage of foreigners and others, and their presents sent for the commemoration of the jubilee.

Train Robbery in Michigan.

HURON, Mich., June 22.—This morning five men boarded the 11:15 Grand Trunk train at St. Gratiot, going east, and "held up" the passengers. Several of them lost what money they had and one man lost $160. Three men have been arrested and are now jailed here and more arrests will probably follow.

Shot and Instantly Killed.

NEW ORLEANS, June 22.—Dr. M. A. Verando, aged fifty, a prominent dentist and justice of the peace of Tangipanoa parish, was on Monday, shot and instantly killed by L. R. Draughn, aged fifty-eight, who is also a well known citizen. The men had been on bad terms for two years.

A Murderer Arrested and Confesses His Crime.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 22.—Yesterday R. F. Truslove, a prominent planter near Clarksville, was assassinated while working in the field, by John Evans, a white man, who was making a crop on his place. Evans was arrested and confessed he killed Truslove.

The Weather.

Burglary at Greencastle.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., June 22.—A bold robbery was perpetrated in the tailor establishment of Hays & Cannon. The burglars are supposed to have entered through the coal hole in the sidewalk from which point they had little trouble in reaching the vault. They got from $800 to $1,000, the larger part belonging to the K. of L., who deposited there. The whole thing is shrouded in mystery.

Another Engagement.

UTICA, June 22.—President Cleveland and wife have written that they will participate in the centennial exercises of Clinton and the seventy-fifth anniversary of Hamilton college, Wednesday, July 13th.

FOR LARCENY.

George Merz, a Young Man, is Charged With Stealing $30.

George Merz, a young man, possibly twenty five years of age and son of Peter Merz, was arraigned before the mayor to answer the charge of stealing $30 and a revolver from Fred Winter, who keeps a saloon at the corner of Lafayette and Montgomery street. Merz, it is alleged, committed the theft Sunday afternoon, but he denies the impeachment and will have a further trial to-morrow morning. Mayor Mubler sent him to jail in default of $500 bail.

Kentucky Desperadoes.

LEXINGTON, June 22.—Information has been received by transport of another battle in Rowan county which occurred this morning at 9 o'clock. Craig Tolliver was killed. It is said a large party of men, ostensibly led by Dr. Logan, had organized a band of reformators for the purpose of ridding the county of desperadoes. This morning a little after 9 o'clock the regulators, being concealed in close proximity, to the Morehead, opened fire on Tolliver and some of his gang who were on the streets. Tolliver was killed early in the engagement and the fight assumed a bush whacking character, the men hiding behind houses and trees and shooting any one that would be seen.

The reports differ as to the number killed, one placing the number at five, including Tolliver, another that Craig, Tolliver and two of his brothers and thirteen men have been killed.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Wheat, unsettled. Opened ½@¾ higher, little weaker and declined 2½ on June and ¼ @1. On others less doing. No. 2 red June, 85@85¾. Corn, dull and declining. 46¼@47¼. Oats, dull and heavy at 40@41.

TOLEDO, June 22.—Wheat, quiet, steady and unchanged. Corn, steady, at 40½. Oats quiet, Aug. 26c. Clover-seed, steady at $4 25.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The talk on the board was about the Fidelity bank failure, with but little effect, however, on the wheat market, as it was believed that the Cincinnati end of the deal had played its part and was now out of the way. July wheat open ½c higher than it closed yesterday, at 70½, sold to 70¾ and is now quoted at 70c.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Wheat about steady; June, 69c. Corn, steady, at 35¾. Oats, steady, at 25c. Rye, 52c. Barley, nothing doing. Timothy, prime, $2 15. Flax seed, $1 21. Whiskey $1 10. Pork, steady, $9 20. Lard, firm, $6 27½.

Frank Johnson, the Nebraska burglar, was on trial before a jury in the circuit court to-day. The jury retired at 3 o'clock and acquitted the colored man. The trial of Dick Nahrwald, for attempted murder, will be taken up next.

Provident Savings Life.

FORT WAYNE, IND., June 20, 1887.

Received of Joseph Lumbard, special agent of the Provident Savings Life Assurance society, of New York, the sum of five thousand dollars, ($5,000) being payment in full of policy No. 21,339, held in the above company, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the prompt receipt of same, since after the proofs of death were forwarded. The above policy was only taken out by my father, Thomas Loose, six weeks prior to his death; the premium paid was only one hundred and fifty seven dollars, (157.00) whilst in other good companies the premium would have been three hundred and eighty-eight dollars, ($388.00). For prompt payment, safe and cheap life insurance, Mr. Lumbard has certainly secured the best company.

FIDELITY'S FAILURE !

The Bank's Failure is Due to the Money Lost in the Chicago Wheat Panic.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Comptroller Trenholm has telegraphed general instructions to Examiner Fowell, who is in charge of the Fidelity National bank, of Cincinnati. He is directed to receive all payments tendered him and push all collections of overdrafts and maturing paper, but to pay out nothing that was in the bank at the time of the failure. Paper maturing and notes paid must be protested and no checks or offsets are to be allowed. The fact is that nothing will be done that can await the appointment of a receiver. Remittances to the bank by mail and collections made by the examiner for parties not indebted to the bank and unmatured paper held for collection and not credited to owners may be returned or disposed of as the owners may direct.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 22.—It is said that the Bank Examiner Fowell on Monday afternoon demanded a statement from the bank and received one showing a balance on hand of $1,100,000 in cash. When calling for a view of this money, he was amazed to be shown an old pencil memorandum, reading "Wilshire, Eckart & Co., $900,000; J. W. Wilshire, $48,000," and so on through a long list. There was no collateral and no security, whatever. Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Hopkins were unable to make any explanation and Mr. Harper could offer none. Even after this it is said the offer to permit this bank to continue was made, if these three men were expelled and new capital brought in, but when inquiry was made as to how much would be required the answer was. "A million dollars at least." That staggered the directors and although they still hoped to form a reorganization it is most probable that the fear of further defalcations deterred them. The fact is that Harper concealed from the directors his connection with the wheat deal. He is said to have admitted yesterday, he did not go into the wheat deal himself, but he honored an over draft for Wilshire for $48,000 and then put in the rest to save that. He charges the whole break to the action of the Chicago board of trade making all wheat regular. Mr. Excess Powell, the bank examiner, is credited with saying that the condition of the bank is awful. He said it was singular how Harper had deceived every body about the matter. In this connection it may be recalled that when the wheat panic occurred in Chicago, and rumors were out of the run on the Fidelity bank, Mr. Harper stated repeatedly to parties asking for information, that he did not know who was in the wheat deal and went so far as to say he did not believe that it was managed at Cincinnati, but that it was conducted from California and Cleveland. More attachments upon Harper's property have been made and everything he has is now tied up.

As the examination of the Fidelity National bank proceeds the enormous defalcations increases. It is now the common talk on the streets that the liabilities of the bank will be the stupendous sum of $6,000,000, while the assets will dwindle in proportion. It seems a foregone conclusion that the depositors will get next to nothing. This is the general talk, but of course it is unofficial and cannot be verified until the bank examiner completes his work and makes his report. It is stated to-day that a memorandum, which is a substitute for the collateral, shows that Wilshire used $1,100,000 of the bank's money and that the collaterals for other loans were hypothecated in New York and elsewhere. It is believed that Wilshire acted as the agent of Harper in conducting a wheat deal and was not the principal.

Later.—The publication was made here that Messrs. Swift and Lyman, the attorneys for the Exchange National bank of Chicago, were here to push a claim of $75,000 against the Fidelity bank. The truth is the exact amount is $198,367 50. Last Saturday Mr. Swift presented a certificate of deposit and demanded the money. He was told that the American Exchange did not have this sum to its credit. He then demanded the balance, whatever it might be, and was told that the payment had been stopped. In view of the apparent negligence of President Briggs Swift and the other directors, there is strong talk of causing their arrest, although it would be hard to find even a suffering creditor in Cincinnati to demand it. One who knows, but declines to give his name, says that ten days ago he, with President Swift, went over the called loan account and found it all right. He says he is certain that Harper had done all this crooked work within the past ten days or two weeks and could not well be known. He does not think there is any reflection on President Swift. While there is no effect upon the banks from this failure there is marked restriction of business. Business men stand appalled at the glaring features of this great fraud are contemplated.

MORNING-DEWALD.

A Notable Wedding at the Cathedral This Morning.

The marriage of Mr. Tony DeWald to Miss Katie, daughter of Hon. and Mrs. Henry Manning, was solemnized at the Cathedral this morning by Rev. Father

6:30. Round

Oechtering. The relatives and friends of the young people comfortably filled the church to witness the ceremony and by their presence complimented the high contracting parties, who are so well and favorably known in society. The bride was attended by Miss Mamie DeWald, and the groom by Mr. Henry Manning. The ladies were charming and richly attired, while the gentlemen were in keeping with the honors. It was a very notable wedding owing to the prominence of the families and although entirely private was a brilliant event. From the church, where Father Oechtering pronounced the impressive marriage rite, Mr. and Mrs. DeWald repaired to the home of the bride on East Wayne street. There an elegant wedding feast was spread to them and their immediate relatives, and this afternoon, amid a shower of rice and blessings, Mr. and Mrs. DeWald left for the east on a wedding tour.

Interest in Study.

In all pedagogy the great thing is to strike the iron while hot, and to seize the wave of the pupil's interest in each successive subject before its ebb has come, so that knowledge may be got and a habit of skill acquired—a headway of interest, in short, secured, on which afterward the individual may float. There is a happy moment for trying skill in drawing, for making boys collectors in natural history, and presently dissectors and botanists; then for imitating them into the harmonies of mechanics and the wonders of physical and chemical law. Later, introspective psychology and the metaphysical and religious mysteries take their turn; and last of all, the drama of human affairs and worldly wisdom in the widest sense of the term. In each of these saturation-point is soon reached in all these things; the impetus of our purely intellectual need expires, and unless the topic be one associated with some urgent personal need that keeps our wits constantly whetted about it, we settle into an equilibrium, and live on what we learned when our interest was fresh and instinctive, without adding to the store. Outside of their own business the ideas gained by men before they are twenty-five are practically the only ideas they shall have in their lives. They cannot get anything new. Disinterested curiosity is past, the mental grooves and channels set, the power of assimilation gone. If by chance we ever do learn anything about some entirely new topic we are afflicted with the strange sense of insecurity, and we fear to advance a resolute opinion. But, with things learned in the plastic days of instructive curiosity, we never lose entirely our sense of being at home. There remains a kinship, a sentiment of intimate acquaintance, which, even when we know we have failed to keep abreast of the subject, flatters us with a sense of power over it, and makes us feel not altogether out of the pale.

Whatever individual exceptions might be cited to this are of the sort that "prove the rule."

To detect the moment of the instinctive readiness for the subject is, then, the first duty of every educator. As for the pupils, it would probably lead to a more earnest temper on the part of college students if they had less belief in their unlimited future intellectual potentialities, and could be brought to realize that whatever physics and political economy and philosophy they are now acquiring are, for better or worse, the physics and political economy and philosophy that will have to serve them to the end.—Prof. William James, in Scribner's Magazine.

Where Gems Are Cheap.

The precious metal being here so plentiful, because of the remarkable richness of the surrounding sierras, ornaments of pure gold and silver are common among the poorest people, from great hoops in their ears to cigarette-cases in their pockets. At every street corner are little stands, where genuine treasures in the way of antique jewelry or exquisite specimens of filigree work may be bought for a song. There are brooches, necklaces, combs, earrings, crucifixes, in short, every imaginable device—some set with the beautiful opals of Queretaro, or pearls from the California Gulf, or topazes, amethysts, garnets, or "rain-eyes" from other portions of Mexico.—Letter from Guadalajara, Mexico.

A sea-going yacht is an expensive luxury. Jay Gould seldom cruises on the beautiful Atalanta and more seldom has guests aboard, yet she costs him $6,000 a month. W. K. Vanderbilt has made one cruise in his new Alva to the Bermudas—and has planned others and he calculates that it will cost at least $10,000 a month to maintain his steam-pleasure craft. William Astor keeps his steam yacht the Nourmahal tied up most of the time and consequently he gets off more cheaply—$2,000 to $3,000 a month. The most extensive and most famous for its great cleanliness of all New York steam yachts is James Gordon Bennett's Namouna. For twelve months in the year he keeps her in commission and hardly a week passes when her cabin is not the scene of some lavish entertainment. Entertainments, more or less lavish, cost money, but how much Mr. Bennett spends on that way will remain a mystery. It is only known that the sum total of actual expenses on the Namouna is $30,000 a year.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1887.

THE republican press is now at work on the heavy task of making Adjutant General Drum a democrat.

THE business men should take hold of the lake project. It interests them more than any other class of people.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S jubilee is a very notable event indeed. THE HERITAGE outlines the honors to her in its tele graph columns.

AT a special election at Logansport Monday, P. F. McHale, democrat, was elected councilman. This gives the democrats eight out of ten councilmen.

IT is useless to now deprecate the late date of the gravel road election. The thing to do is to organize for a successful and intelligent presentation of the question to the people.

JOSEPH HOWARD, an ex-convict, is writing a series of letters to the Chicago Inter-Ocean, denunciatory of the Northern Indiana prison management. The institution is not at all conducted to the liking of thieves, blackguards and murderers, and of course, this is very sad to contemplate.

THE export of American breadstuffs last month showed a falling off in comparison with the same month of last year, the values being respectively $13,-181,877 and $13,548,543; but the eleven months ending with May of this year show $145,400,354 as against $139,107,-396 compared with the same eleven months of last year.

A FEW cities are moving in the direction of compelling corporations to pay for street franchises and it may serve as a pointer to Fort Wayne. At Kansas City last week, the Metropolitan Cable Co. were required to do a certain amount of street paying; to maintain twelve electric lights along its route, and to give transfer checks to passengers. The Star estimates that these will cost the company about $70,000 during the life of its franchise—but the chief point is the recognition of the principle that if corporations want public franchises they must come down to business and pay for them.

BEATEN the cheap ravings of a few professional republican soldier-politicians, place this calm-tempered, Christian letter of the governor of Georgia, written prior to the president's final decision: "Your telegram asking my views on the proposition to return southern rebel flags received. When the proposition first reached me I regarded it as additional evidence of restored concord and fraternal sentiment. As such my heart responded most warmly to the movement, but as a portion of the northern press and people seek to make it the occasion for renewed estrangement and bitterness, I would prefer to leave the flags where they are. I speak as an individual, an ex-soldier, not as governor, and without consultation, but I believe this will be found to be the sense and sentiment of the southern people. We are weary of strife and hate. We want peace and good will and prefer these to a return of even so cherished relics if their return is to be made at such a cost."

MR. JOHN MOHR can look over his career in the city council with a good deal of pride. It was he who first inaugurated the city hall project now under successful contemplation, and he also devised a measure converting the market space into a park, virtually introducing the beauty as well as necessity of parks to public notice. His greatest achievement, under the severest and most trying circumstances, was the passage of the cow ordinance, which has accomplished more in the way of improving and beautifying the city than any other single measure ever enacted by the council. The personal abuse and even public censure, heaped on Mr. Mohr at the time, can now be recalled. It was of a nature that few men would brave, but the gentleman has the honor to see the work of his head and heart bear golden fruit. It pays to be courageous on the side of right and this might serve as a moral to others who can profitably follow in his footsteps.

Excitement Over a Big Deal in Natural Gas.

WABASH, June 22.—Reports reached here that a gigantic natural gas pipe line project was on foot, and that the great Jumbo gas well at Fairmount, Grant county, had been sold to a syndicate of Buffalo capitalists who would sink other wells and pipe the fluid to Chicago to supply that city. Your reporter visited Fairmount this afternoon for the purpose of running down the story. A call was made upon Hoyt's bank. Mr. Hoyt admitted that he knew all the facts in the gas deal, but refused to reveal all he knew. He stated, however, that the Jumbo well was sold on Saturday to a Buffalo syndicate, who would pipe the gas, but he could not say exactly where the pipe line would go.

THE Court of Appeals of Texas has just rendered a decision which has thrown the gambling fraternity into a flutter, says an Austin (Tex.) correspondent. The case was William Porter vs. The State, from Collier County; charge, theft. Porter, while engaged in a game of cards, borrowed money from a bystander to use in the game, on promise to pay it back after the game was over. He failed to do so, and the man loaning the money had him indicted for theft. He was found guilty in the lower court, and appealed his case, which has been affirmed. Judge White, who rendered the opinion, said, among other things, that if the taking, though originally lawful, was obtained by a false pretense or with the intent of depriving the owner of the value thereof and appropriating the property to the use, etc., of the person taking, the offense is complete. In this the material question is, Do the facts in the record constitute theft? It is in proof that the money alleged to have been stolen was loaned by the prosecutor to the appellant upon the promise to return it when he had finished the game of cards he was playing. The court instructed the jury that if they believed from the evidence that the appellant and those indicted with him entered into a conspiracy to obtain the money, deprive the owner of its value, and appropriate to their possession, and that the owner of the money did not part with the title to it, but gave it to the indicted parties on their promise to return it after the game, and they did not intend to comply with their promise, that the jury would find the defendant, Willian Porter, guilty of theft. We are of the opinion that the court stated the case correctly in conformity with the statute. This is a novel case, but in our opinion a case of theft is made out, and the judgment is affirmed.

Rossington, ticket agent, or Frank M. Cadwell, district passenger agent, Pennsylvania depot, Fort Wayne, Ind. 5-eod-td.

Rheumatism

We doubt if there is, or can be, a specific remedy for rheumatism; but thousands who have suffered its pains have been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla. If you have failed to find relief, try this great remedy.

"I was afflicted with rheumatism twenty years. Previous to 1882 I found no relief, but grew worse, and at one time was almost helpless. Hood's Sarsaparilla, and no more good than all the other medicines I ever had." H. T. BARROW, Shirley Village, Mass.

"I had rheumatism three years, and got no relief till I took Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has done great things for me. I recommend it to others." LEWIS BURBANK, Biddeford, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. E. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." J. HARRINGTON, 128 Bank Street, New York City.

SCROFULOUS ULCERS.

James E. Richardson, Custom House, New Orleans, on oath says: "In 1870 Scrofulous Ulcers broke out on my body until I was a mass of corruption. Everything known to the medical faculty was tried in vain. I became a mere wreck. At times could not lift my hands to my head, could not turn in bed; was in constant pain, and looked upon life as a curse. No relief or cure in ten years. In 1880 I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, used them, and was perfectly cured."

Sworn to before U. S. Com. J. D. Crawford.

ONE OF THE WORST CASES.

We have been selling your Cuticura Remedies for years, and have the best testimonials yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw cured by the use of five bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, Cuticura, and Cuticura Soap. The Soap takes the "cake" here as a medicinal soap.

AMONG THE SHOPS.

AT THE RAIL FOUNDRY AND MACHINE WORKS.

The proverbial mule is employed in the moulding department of the Rail works and does all the hauling of iron in and out of that department. It is a sort of quiet animal, however, and never kicks unless it raises its hind foot. The boys hold it in great reverence and when a stranger enters the shops they yell out: "Hello, there! Look out for that mule!"

Two new and large derricks are just being finished in the company's yards.

Harry Hayes, of the machine shops, went to Chicago yesterday to put a new engine in a building on State street, of that city.

John McKean, one of the most popular machinists of the shops, is celebrating his twenty-seventh birthday to-day, and many of the boys smoked at his expense this morning. They wish him long life and happiness.

The shops are shipping several car loads of car wheels to-day.

The boys say that the reason why Foreman Mateh voted against beer at the Fourth of July picnic was that fermented boys was not strong enough for him.

AT THE PITTSBURG SHOPS.

The yards in the shops are to be ornamented by the making of a mammoth flower bed in or near its center, and the boys say that they will have the most beautiful flower garden in the country, containing as it will every species that can be grown in this climate. When it is finished our reporter will be asked to view the garden and he now ventures to name it in advance, "The Garden of Eden," knowing that it will not suit the boys, but rival in appearance and beauty that historical spot, in which our first parents were tempted and fell. Go ahead with your garden boys, and when it is finished hold a big jubilee.

The boiler department is now receiving its coat of whitewash. Every department of the shops, not already whitewashed, will be similarly treated, and the whole establishment will not only look neater and better, but will be so thoroughly renovated and purified that it will make it a healthy place.

Ed. Challenger has returned from his visit to Toledo and resumed his duties in the shops.

There is an accumulation of freight at the Pittsburg depot and a large force of workmen are engaged in disposing of it.

W. H. Polhamus, the genial clerk at the Pennsylvania company's shops, says that news is very dull around his department.

Astrological Absurdities.

However much we may condemn and ridicule the conclusions drawn by astrologers from "voices of the stars," their method of arriving at these conclusions was founded on strict rule. Their system had every pretension to mathematical and scientific accuracy. Their mistake arose in the idea that the position of any particular planet at any particular time could have the least influence on human fortunes and destinies. This fallacy is scarcely worth disproving in the nineteenth century, but one fact will show it at once. The position of the earth in its rotation, changes with regard to the signs of the zodiac every four minutes. It is evident then, that all the children born within the same four minutes must have precisely the same horoscope. Rich and poor, clever or dull, would have, according to astrology, exactly the same career in life mapped out for them—would undergo exactly the same vicissitudes, attain to exactly the same moment. As in England alone there are many children born in the course of every four minutes, the absurdity is evident. As to questions regarding particular events, the fact can be proved in a different way. The moon, for instance, is a powerful factor in astrological problems. Her position is, however, changed with regard to our meridian every four minutes, and, in the course of a few hours, very considerably so. It might, then, make a very great difference in the "figure" whether the querent went to the astrologer in the morning or the evening. In the one case he might have the moon in "joy," in "dignities," and in every other astrological excellence, while in the other she would be in the most complete opposition.—London Society.

CORA LEE'S TRIAL.

Testimony of the Defense—Defendant Tells Where She Was on the Night of the Murder.

St. Louis, June 22.—Fourteen witnesses were examined for the defense in the Cora Lee trial at Springfield. Mattie Dyer, a damaging state witness, admitted that she had said she very much desired to see Cora Lee hung. Etta Molley and Emma Lee testified that Cora slept with them the night of the murder, retiring about 9 o'clock, and that she did not leave home during the night.

Several witnesses testified to-day in support of the defense's theory that Graham and Sarah got off the train at Winchester, while Cora Lee was sleeping by her sisters.

Cora Lee was called. She walked calmly and coolly to the stand and testified fifteen minutes without any emotion whatever. She said: "On the night of the murder I was at the Molloy farm, sleeping with Etta Molloy and Emma Lee. Late in the night I was awakened by some one tapping at the window. I asked: 'Who's there?' The reply was 'me.' I did not recognize the voice, and the girls got up and went with the door, because I was afraid [illegible] ham." She denied all the against her morality in detail [illegible] she knew that Sarah Graham [illegible] Springfield was when [illegible] found. Yesterday a few [illegible] died in rebuttal on both [illegible] the arguments began.

[illegible] for the [illegible] ished to [illegible] day's [illegible] call from [illegible] in whom [illegible] of Paris, [illegible] American [illegible] of Paris, who [illegible] ohia Telegram [illegible] to propose [illegible] transaction, [illegible] a list of sundry [illegible] gentlemen who [illegible] to marry rich American girls, and she displayed such a list inscribed with some of the proudest names of the French aristocracy. If my countryman would inform her of the arrival in Paris of any healthy American ladies, and of the presumed amount of their fortunes, she would, on the accomplishment of a marriage between any one of these and one of her clients, at once pay over to him half of her stipulated percentage on the dowry, which in her case was to amount to 10 per cent. It is needless to say that the woman's offer was refused. But the very fact of its being made showed how widespread is the system of the matrimonial agency in Paris, and how extensive and elaborate must be its arrangements for obtaining information.

There is an Austrian gentleman moving in the best society of Paris whom I strongly suspect of being one of the secret and accredited agents of one of these establishments. He tried hard, but in vain, some years ago, to bring about a match between the daughter and only child of a wealthy American gentleman, then visiting this city, and a French duke of ancient family. The duke turned out finally to be an impostor, and was forced to take flight from Paris. Employes of the agencies are also to be found at the principal hotels here. They are usually women generally bear high-sounding titles, and are pleasant of manner and affable of bearing. Their business is to make acquaintance with rich Americans who have daughters, so that the daughters aforesaid may be presented to impecunious adventurers on the lookout to repair their fortunes by marriage. The matter is very adroitly managed, an opera or a theater party, or a little dance being gotten up by the amiable French lady to amuse her sweet, new, young friend, the luckless damsel whose dollars, real or rumored, have caused her to be selected as a fitting victim. At the dance or at the theater the introduction takes place and the fascinations of the gentleman are supposed to do the rest. Very often, indeed, the promoter of the whole series of manœuvers is not connected with any agency whatever, but is acting on her own account.

BILIOUSNESS

Is an affection of the Liver, and can be thoroughly cured by that Grand Regulator of the Liver and Biliary Organs,

Simmons Liver Regulator,

MANUFACTURED BY

J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Philadelphia, Pa.

I was afflicted for several years with chronic hepatic liver, which resulted in a severe attack of jaundice. I had as good medical attendance as our section affords, who failed utterly to restore me to the enjoyment of my former good health. I then tried the favorite prescription of one of the most renowned physicians of Louisville, Ky., but to no purpose, whereupon I was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I found immediate benefit from its use, and it ultimately restored me to the full enjoyment of health.

At the recent great Sunday school convention held in Chicago a statistical report was presented showing the Sunday school membership of each state, territory, providence and country in the world. From this it appears that "Indiana, fifth in population in 1880, is sixth in Sunday school membership, second in proportion of that membership to the population."

The supreme court of Indiana recently decided that there are only three contingencies in which the sale of lands for delinquent taxes is absolutely void, the first being where the lands shall not have been liable for taxation; the second where the taxes have been paid before the sale, and the third where the description of the tax duplicate is so imperfect as to fail to identify the land.

The Salvation Army appeared upon the streets last evening with a new corps of workers, consisting of three ladies and one man. They gave open air exercises on Court street that drew around them a large crowd of interested spectators and then marched to their barracks, on Holman street, where their regular evening services were held. The leading lady of their band is a fine talker and the singing of all of them is good. They will make a renewed effort to advance their cause in this city, but their noisy street parades seem to have been discontinued and they content themselves with the harmless tambering, which the ladies handle with dexterity.

Col. Carl Shober now cuts the atmosphere with the air of one on whose banner victory has permanently perched itself. The colonel has been paying his respects to a questionable house on Monroe street through "Mother Mum" and yesterday the occupants fled the ranch. Flushed even with this victory, sailing is evidently not smooth for him. He sees dangers of a collision with the obstructions in front of the Pixley-Long block and also perceives his liability to drop through the stone pavements now being laid on the west side of Calhoun street. The life of a morning newspaper man is troublous, but Shober is lucky if Contractor Cooke does not drop a flag stone or two on him.

Nothing has occurred in freight circles of late which has created more anxiety than the announcement that the Wabash Western was going into Chicago, and proposed to cut rates on east bound freights. The feeling is that this road has no more right to go into that shipping point to cut rates than the Louisville and Nashville has, and the only reason they assign for doing so is that once upon a time they did have a route there, with which they fed the Detroit and Erie River, a piece of road which the Wabash Western still claims to control. Last night it was telegraphed here that Judge Gresham would, this morning, be asked to interfere in the matter, this piece of road still being in the hands of the court. The mere announcement that the Wabash Western proposed to cut rates out of Chicago put a stop, for the time being, to all shipments of grain, the shippers seeming to be as much interested in the outcome of the rumor as the general freight agents.

The American people are quick to appreciate a good article, which accounts for their consuming several millions of cakes of Ivory Soap the past year. Its sterling merits and moderate cost establish it permanently in every household where once tried.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.
